Dear Rhinos Fans,

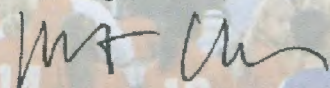

As the organization embarks on our 15th year as a franchise, we begin another exciting season of soccer, playing in our 5th season at what is now Marina Auto Stadium. We are part of a new league; the United States Soccer Federation Division 2 Pro League... a league that consists of two conferences (the USL and the NASL) of six teams each. This year, as part of our 15th Anniversary season, the focus is celebrating the past, while paving the way to the successful future of our organization.

As we begin this exciting journey, we'll carry on the traditions that began fifteen years ago... Inspired by the values and traditions that have been developed throughout the past, and embracing the changes and advancements that will raise the bar, we hope to set precedence for the next fifteen years to come. The past becomes the present, as we begin by reuniting an iconic legend in Rhinos history, a man who was with the organization from its very beginning, Pat Ercoli. Taking the reins as General Manager, Pat brings a wealth of knowledge, experience, and professionalism to the organization, and will play a critical role in strengthening our ties to the community and developing our players. Alongside Pat, the new era will be led by coach, Bob Lilley. While he is new to the Rhinos organization, he is no stranger to the sport of soccer. I truly believe that Lilley is a coach that understands the expectations and tradition of Rhinos soccer, from having coached against us in the past... and has the ability to bring this team back to the level of play we saw when we were a championship organization. Lilley has worked rigorously throughout the off season in piecing together a squad that is dynamic and quick, something that has been lacking in this town for quite some time. The "rebirth" of the Rhinos will be reflected on the field with the multitude of new players that have been signed in the off season, in addition to 2009 returnees Ryan Heins, Nano Short and Scott Vallow. Look to the return of Frankie Sanfilippo, 2010 Team Captain to be just one integral part of what Lilley is trying to achieve. Midfield/Forward Darren Spicer is another key player to watch out for, along with Troy Roberts and Aaron Pitchkolan, who both come to us with MLS experience. Other veteran players include Tyler Roseland and Jonathan Green, two players that are obviously new to the team, but no strangers to the game. You'll see some younger players out in the pitch as well, such as Isaac Kissi and Adam West. All with sound experience, we will look to these men to serve as the backbone of the franchise throughout the 2010 season.

Off the field, our dedicated staff has spent the off season tirelessly creating and developing ways to enhance the overall fan experience, making it one that will be second to none. Many of these changes have come as a result of your feedback. We have listened to our fans, and made it our goal to make the changes necessary to enhance your experience, and ensure that it is a genuinely unique and memorable event for you and your family. We've unveiled our new "Taste of Rochester" lineup of concessionaires, featuring local favorites such as Bill Gray's, Red Osier, Camille's Sidewalk Café, Simply Crepes, Abbott's, Cuppy's Coffee, and more. In addition, we welcome Lorraine's Food Factory on the brand new luxury suite level. We've created a "Kid's Zone," a large area where kids will be able to play on numerous inflatables, get their faces painted, and multiple other activities. Throughout the year, we will be commemorating the past, by highlighting our top fifteen matches of all time....featuring one per game, as voted on by you, the fans. Huge giveaways, better, more exciting promotions....you will really have to be here, to feel the excitement for yourself!

Very special thanks goes out to our season ticket holders, our sponsors, and you...the fans, for your continued support over the last fifteen years, and hopefully for years to come. The Rochester community, and the support it has provided, has not only made this team what it is today, but will serve as the backbone of success for many years to come. We, as a franchise, look forward to another successful season here at Marina Auto Stadium.

Best Regards,

Rob Clark

Pat is Back!

By Diana Rapp

Synonymous with the name Rochester Rhinos is that of Pat Ercoli. A legend in his own right, Ercoli put Rochester on the map when it came to having a sold out stadium and a quality product on the field. As the only coach in Rhinos history to ever win a league championship, he not only did it once, but three times. Add in the 1999 U.S. Open Cup Championship where the Rhinos continue to be the only USL team to ever win the tournament, and you can see why this man is legendary.

As the Rhinos continue to rebuild the franchise and get back to the glory days that Ercoli helped create, it was a natural decision to return to their roots and bring back a man with strong ties to the Rochester Community and a name well-known in soccer circles. Rhino's owner Rob Clark said, "We are thrilled to reunite Pat with the Rhinos organization. He will play a critical role in strengthening our ties to the community and developing our players"

Ercoli's professional career began on the field in 1976 as a member of Toronto Metros-Croatia. While he would record zero goals that season, it was only the beginning of what would be a ten year career on the pitch. Rochester was first introduced to Ercoli in 1978 when he signed on to play with the Rochester Lancers of the newly resurrected North American Soccer League (NASL). Ercoli scored 16 goals between 1978 and 1980 and recorded 83 appearances for the Lancers. Concurrently, he saw success indoors as well with the New York Arrows and Detroit Lightning where he made a combined 53 appearances and 62 goals. Pat Ercoli would continue to play professional soccer until 1986. He spent one more season outdoors in 1981 with the Jacksonville Tea Men and would spend several more seasons in the indoor arena with the Buffalo Stallions, Baltimore Blast, and Cleveland Force. During that time he recorded another 257 professional appearances and 151 goals. Additionally, Ercoli earned one cap for a Canadian National Team appearance in 1980.

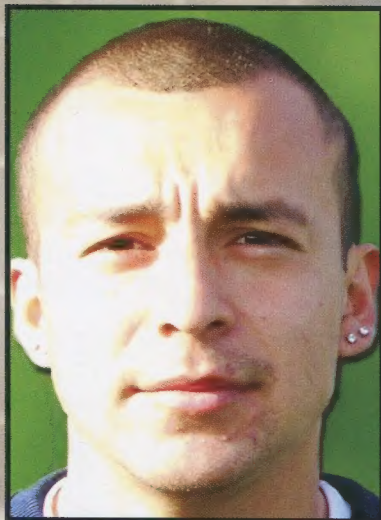

Pat Ercoli would return to Rochester in 1996, as the Rhinos embarked on their inaugural season as part of the A-League at Fauver Stadium. The Rhinos would finish 4th in the regular season under Ercoli's guidance and lose in the championships that year. Success was brewing and the city was anxious to see a winning team. Moving to the newly built Frontier field in 1997 they saw a 2nd place finish in the Northeast and were continuing to build a championship worthy team. The highly sought after A-League championship would find its way to Rochester in 1998 where the Rhinos finished 1st in the Northeast and won their first league title. The Rhinos would go on to be named league champions twice more in both 2000 and 2001 and have made 6 appearances overall. In addition, Ercoli would lead the team to the 1999 Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup championship game where the team pulled out a stunning win over the Colorado Rapids of Major League Soccer. Since the inception of Major League Soccer in 1996, the Rhinos are the only non-MLS team to ever bring home the cup and it shocked the soccer community. Overall, he posted a regular season record of 154-77-18. Pat Ercoli turned the Rochester Rhinos into a soccer powerhouse during his coaching tenure and is here to do it again as the General Manager of the club. Pat is excited to be on board and has said, "The organization has a great tradition and as I watched the team play I knew I wanted to participate. I am looking forward to helping put an exciting product on the field this season."

2010 USSF – D2 TEAM PREVIEWS

USL CONFERENCE

By Joe Giuliano, Rhinos Broadcaster

Austin Aztex

2009 Record: 5-17-8 = 21 Points (10th Place)
Coach: Adrian Heath (2nd Season)
Stadium: House Park (Capacity: 6,500)

Key Players:

25 year-old striker Eddie Johnson showed signs of solid play in 2009. Look for the Manchester United product to only get better after a five goal and four assist season in 2009. 21-year-old Brazilian midfielder Sullivan Silva loves to show his individual skills and go 1v1. Silva will need to turn that individual magic into scoring opportunities for the team. Goalkeeper Miguel Gallardo missed most of 2009 with an injury. He hopes to appear in more than 11 games and lead the Aztex defense.

2010 Outlook:

Adrian Heath and the Aztex look forward to moving to their home field (House Park) and hope they learned from 2009 in USL-1. The Aztex jumped from PDL to USL-1 last season with the youngest roster in the league. As a result, Austin gave up the second most goals (51) in the league. Things will have to be tighter in the back and the Aztex will need someone to set-up the potentially dangerous striker Eddie Johnson. After having a 2009 pre-season goal of making the play-offs and not coming close, Austin has released 14 players. To fill the gaps, the Aztex have been on scouting trips to Senegal, Haiti, Columbia and Mexico. What they come back with? The 2010 season will tell!

FC Tampa Bay Rowdies

2009 Record: 1st Season (2010)
Coach: Paul Dalglish (1st Season)
Stadium: George M. Steinbrenner Field (Capacity: 10,000)

Key Players:

Defender Julian Valentin's MLS experience will be greatly needed as another expansion team enters the league. Defensive midfielder Scott Buete will be the glue in Tampa's first season. Hard nosed and always in the action, Buete's experience with Chicago (MLS), Atlanta and Charleston needs to carry Tampa. Iconic Japanese midfielder Takuya Yamada moves to the USSF D-2 after becoming one of the best all-around players in his country. Yamada's ability to play several positions will be a major asset.

2010 Outlook:

Eddie Firmani, Rodney Marsh and Oscar Fabiani! Tampa re-enters the world of pro soccer. Although it's not quite the same level as those mentioned above, Tampa should be a solid market. If pre-season results are any indicator, Tampa may be more competitive than expected. Tampa picked up a 2-2 result vs. FC Dallas and a 1-0 win against MLS expansion side Philadelphia. Coach Paul Dalglish will be put to the real test once there are points on the line. Should be interesting to see how Tampa deals with the grinding schedule of USSF-D2.

NSC Minnesota Stars

2009 Record: 1st Season (2010)
Co-Coaches: Manny Lagos (1st Season)
Stadium: National Sports Stadium (Capacity: 8,500)

Key Players:

After four years in Rochester M/F Johnny Menyongar returns home to lead the club. Menyongar was one of the most popular Minnesota Thunder players from 2000-2005.

Menyongar scored 28 goals in 106 games with Rochester and was also Team MVP in 2008 and 2009. Forward Melvin Tarley has joined fellow Liberian Menyongar in Minnesota. Tarley, 27 was either top or co-leader in scoring with the Thunder the last two seasons. Although he only had a cup of coffee in Rochester, former Rhino Warren Ukah has also landed in Minnesota.

2010 Outlook:

Manny Lagos basically hand picked certain Minnesota Thunder players to form the nucleus of his squad. The club made a solid choice in building around Menyongar. Lagos hoped living and training together during the pre-season quickly brings the team together. With one of the lowest payrolls in the USSF-D2, NSC Minnesota are hoping hard work, strong effort and no injuries help out. It's going to a very tough balancing act in Minnesota.

Portland Timbers

2009 Record: 16-4-10 = 58 Points (1st Place)

Coach: Gavin Wilkinson (4th Season)

Stadium: PGE Park (Capacity: 18,616)

Key Players:

Forward Mandjou Keita spent the off-season staying sharp in India. Keita scored five goals during his loan spell. The 30 year-old Striker is coming off an impressive 2009 campaign with 11 goals and 7 assists. Rhino killer Ryan Pore returns after a 10 goal season in 2009. Four seasons in MLS with Kansas City definitely helped Pore sharpen his game. Defender Steven Keel will once again lead the back-line. Keel spent four seasons in MLS with Colorado and has become one of the top defenders in the league.

2010 Outlook:

After a dominating 2009 regular season, the Timbers fell in the play-offs to Vancouver (5-4 aggregate). Gavin Wilkinson and the Timbers acknowledge the regular season success and will continue building for their entry into MLS in 2011. Portland produced a historic 24 game unbeaten streak in 2009. With the core of players returning, the Timbers (like the rest of the league) are looking to add players with more speed. We'll see if Portland's entry into MLS helps attract high caliber players looking to secure a spot in 2011.

Puerto Rico Islanders

2009 Record: 15-7-8 = 53 Points (3rd Place)

Coach: Colin Clarke (4th Season)

Stadium: Juan Ramon Loubriel Stadium (Capacity: 12,500)

Key Players:

Defender Marco Velez has re-signed with the Islanders. Velez was the first Puerto Rican player to play in MLS, signing with Toronto FC. His experience and leadership will be a huge addition to the Islanders backline. Midfielder Chris Nurse left Rochester after a less than positive relationship with now fired Head Coach Darren Tilley. After his Rhinos stint, Nurse returned to England and played at the National Conference Level with AFC Telford United. The Islanders are hoping attack-minded Defender Cristian Arrieta returns after another tremendous season. In 2009, Arrieta registered 25 points and finished tied for second in USL-1 points. At the time of this publication, Arrieta was on trial with Philadelphia (MLS).

2010 Outlook:

The loss of Jonathan Steele will hurt Puerto Rico's run in 2010. If Arrieta and Goalie Bill Gaudette are out, Puerto Rico will tumble down the USSF-D2 standings. Coach Colin Clarke has wasted little time in preparing for the 2010 season. He has seen some of the nation's top college players, traveled to England and also has made contact with players in Africa. Puerto Rico continued to spread the soccer word as they also traveled to take on the Antigua National side. "General" Clarke will once again have Puerto Rico prepared and competitive, but key losses will need to be off-set by the experience that Clarke brings.

From A New Perspective: Bob Lilley and Rochester Rhinos Soccer

By Eric Trendel

For nearly ten years Bob Lilley patrolled the visitors sideline in one of the USL First Division's most intense rivalries. As head coach of the Hershey Wildcats (1997-2001) and Montreal Impact (2002-03) his teams faced the Rhinos during the postseason every year from 1998-20003. From the visitors bench at Frontier Field he witnessed first hand the excitement and expectations at Rhinos home matches. "There was always an aura about Rochester" said Lilley. "The fans sat close to the field and every game we played against them was important in really created an intense rivalry. Former Rhinos Head Coach and current General Manager Pat Ercoli on the rivalry noted that "when you think about those games, they could have gone either way. Things always worked out for us but I always thought that the Rhinos and Bob's teams were always one and two in the league. And when you think about it we were probably two of the youngest and most promising coaches at the time."

As a head coach Lilley, has won everywhere he has coached. During his tenure in Hershey his teams posted an 86-46-6 record. In Montreal his teams went 32-15-9 and in Vancouver 33-20-31. He teams have either won or shared the division title five times and he was voted USL First Division Coach of the Year twice, an honor only bestowed on two other coaches (Alan Hinton and Gavin Wilkinson). The problem for Lilley was that there always seemed to be an obstacle preventing him from hoisting that championship trophy – the Rochester Rhinos. "The playoffs had four rounds in those days and when you look at it we never lost (with the exception of pk's against Charleston) a playoff series to any other team, except Rochester. Pat created a winning mentality and it is amazing what they accomplished in that 5-6 year span."

Despite regular season success from 1997-2003 Lilley-led teams went 0-6 in the playoffs series' against the Ercoli-led Rhinos during that same span. In 2001, the Wildcats managed 75 points and fielded, by far, the league's stingiest team allowing only 20 goals in 26 starts. Outscoring their opposition 7-1 during the playoffs Hershey earned a trip to the league title match and was just 90 minutes from championship glory – their opponent however was the defending 2000 league champion Rhinos. Playing in front of a partisan crowd at Rochester's Frontier Field, Lilley's hopes of winning a ring were dashed by a crafty Bulgarian midfielder named Stoian Mladenov. Mladenov tallied both goals in Rochester's 2-0 win and days later the Wildcats were folded by ownership, having cited that the team would not be successful financially. It was a decision that certainly had Lilley frustrated. "It is the biggest disappointment of my career. We had a lot of young players and we were moving in the right direction under controlled budgets. I don't think they wanted to cause a distraction and so we didn't know about it before the championship match. It was a disappointing and it marked the end of some players' careers."

The rivalry that had existed between Lilley and his Wildcats and the Rhinos may have been over but the Fort Monmouth, New Jersey native soon found himself in the middle of it again after taking over the reigns of perhaps Rochester's biggest foe – the Montreal Impact. Unfortunately for Lilley however 2002 and 2003 ended in similar fashion, falling to Rochester in tightly contested postseason series'. "The playoffs for me were difficult during that phase" said Lilley. "We had some good teams but the Rhinos were always ready and they made their home field a fortress. They really had something special going on here then." After stepping down as head coach of the Impact following the 2003 season Lilley made his way west taking over a storied franchise in Vancouver.

As in Hershey and Montreal Lilley's team was a success on the field and after guiding the Whitecaps to the playoffs in each of his first two seasons 2006 saw a return trip to the USL-1 title match. As irony might have it, once again the team standing between Lilley and the championship hardware was the Rochester Rhinos. Like half a decade before Lilley's team was seeking a title on foreign ground, playing in front of nearly 10,000 Rhino fans at PAETEC Park. However this time the result was different. On a frigid night in Rochester the Whitecaps sunk the Rhinos hopes of another championship, winning 3-0 and providing Lilley with his first league title as a coach. "A lot of people saw me suffer in Rochester but winning was a weight off my shoulders. Maybe in the back of my mind there was some feeling of vindication but it was not more of a priority because it was Rochester."

After the 2007 season Lilley's tenure in Vancouver came to an end. During the next two years the 46-year was out of the league but continued to coach, taking over the reigns of the Detroit Ignition of the Major Indoor Soccer League. After a disappointing 2009 season, the Rhinos overhauled their soccer department, choosing not to renew the contracts of Head Coach Darren Tilley and General Manager Matthew Ford. On October 29, 2009 the Rhinos reached out to Ercoli, Lilley's coaching counterpart during all those playoff clashes of nearly a decade ago, to be their next general manager. His first order of business was to hire the next Rhinos head coach and he didn't have to think very long about who that might be choosing to re-unite his former foe. "When hiring a head coach I took into consideration the pressure that Bob was under in Montreal and Vancouver especially. Expectations for success there are no different than in Rochester and he was successful in winning a championship and building teams that won titles after he left (Montreal in 2004 and Vancouver in 2008). We want to create an environment here similar to what it used to be."

Just two weeks after assuming the GM role, Ercoli stood at the podium at a press conference in downtown Rochester and introduced Lilley as head coach of the Rochester Rhinos. While at that press conference in November Lilley was quick to mention the tradition of soccer in Rochester. For a man who has witnessed, from the visiting bench, the excitement that soccer fans in Rochester bring to each home match he is thrilled for a new perspective on that excitement. "What Rochester had here (from 1998-2004) is something that will never be matched. With the parity in the league now I don't think that level of dominance for that amount of time is going to happen anymore. But our goal is to build something exciting and special again here. My teams will take an aggressive approach to the game." While Lilley and Ercoli hope to recreate the feeling that permeated Frontier Field for so long there is one thing Lilley doesn't want to see repeated. "I am hopeful that I don't get the same level of harassment from the fans as in the past" he says with a laugh. "We are excited win games and once again make coming to Rochester something opposing teams don't like to do." And considering the success of his team's in the past... Rochester soccer fans have something to be excited about too!
